TOLO 50 YEARS

Build thee more stately mansions,
O my soul,
As the swift seasons roll!
Leave thy low vaulted past!
Let each new temple, nobler than the last,
Shut thee from heaven, with a dome more vast,
Till thou at length art free,
Leaving thine outgrown shell by life's unresting sea!

O. W. HOLMES

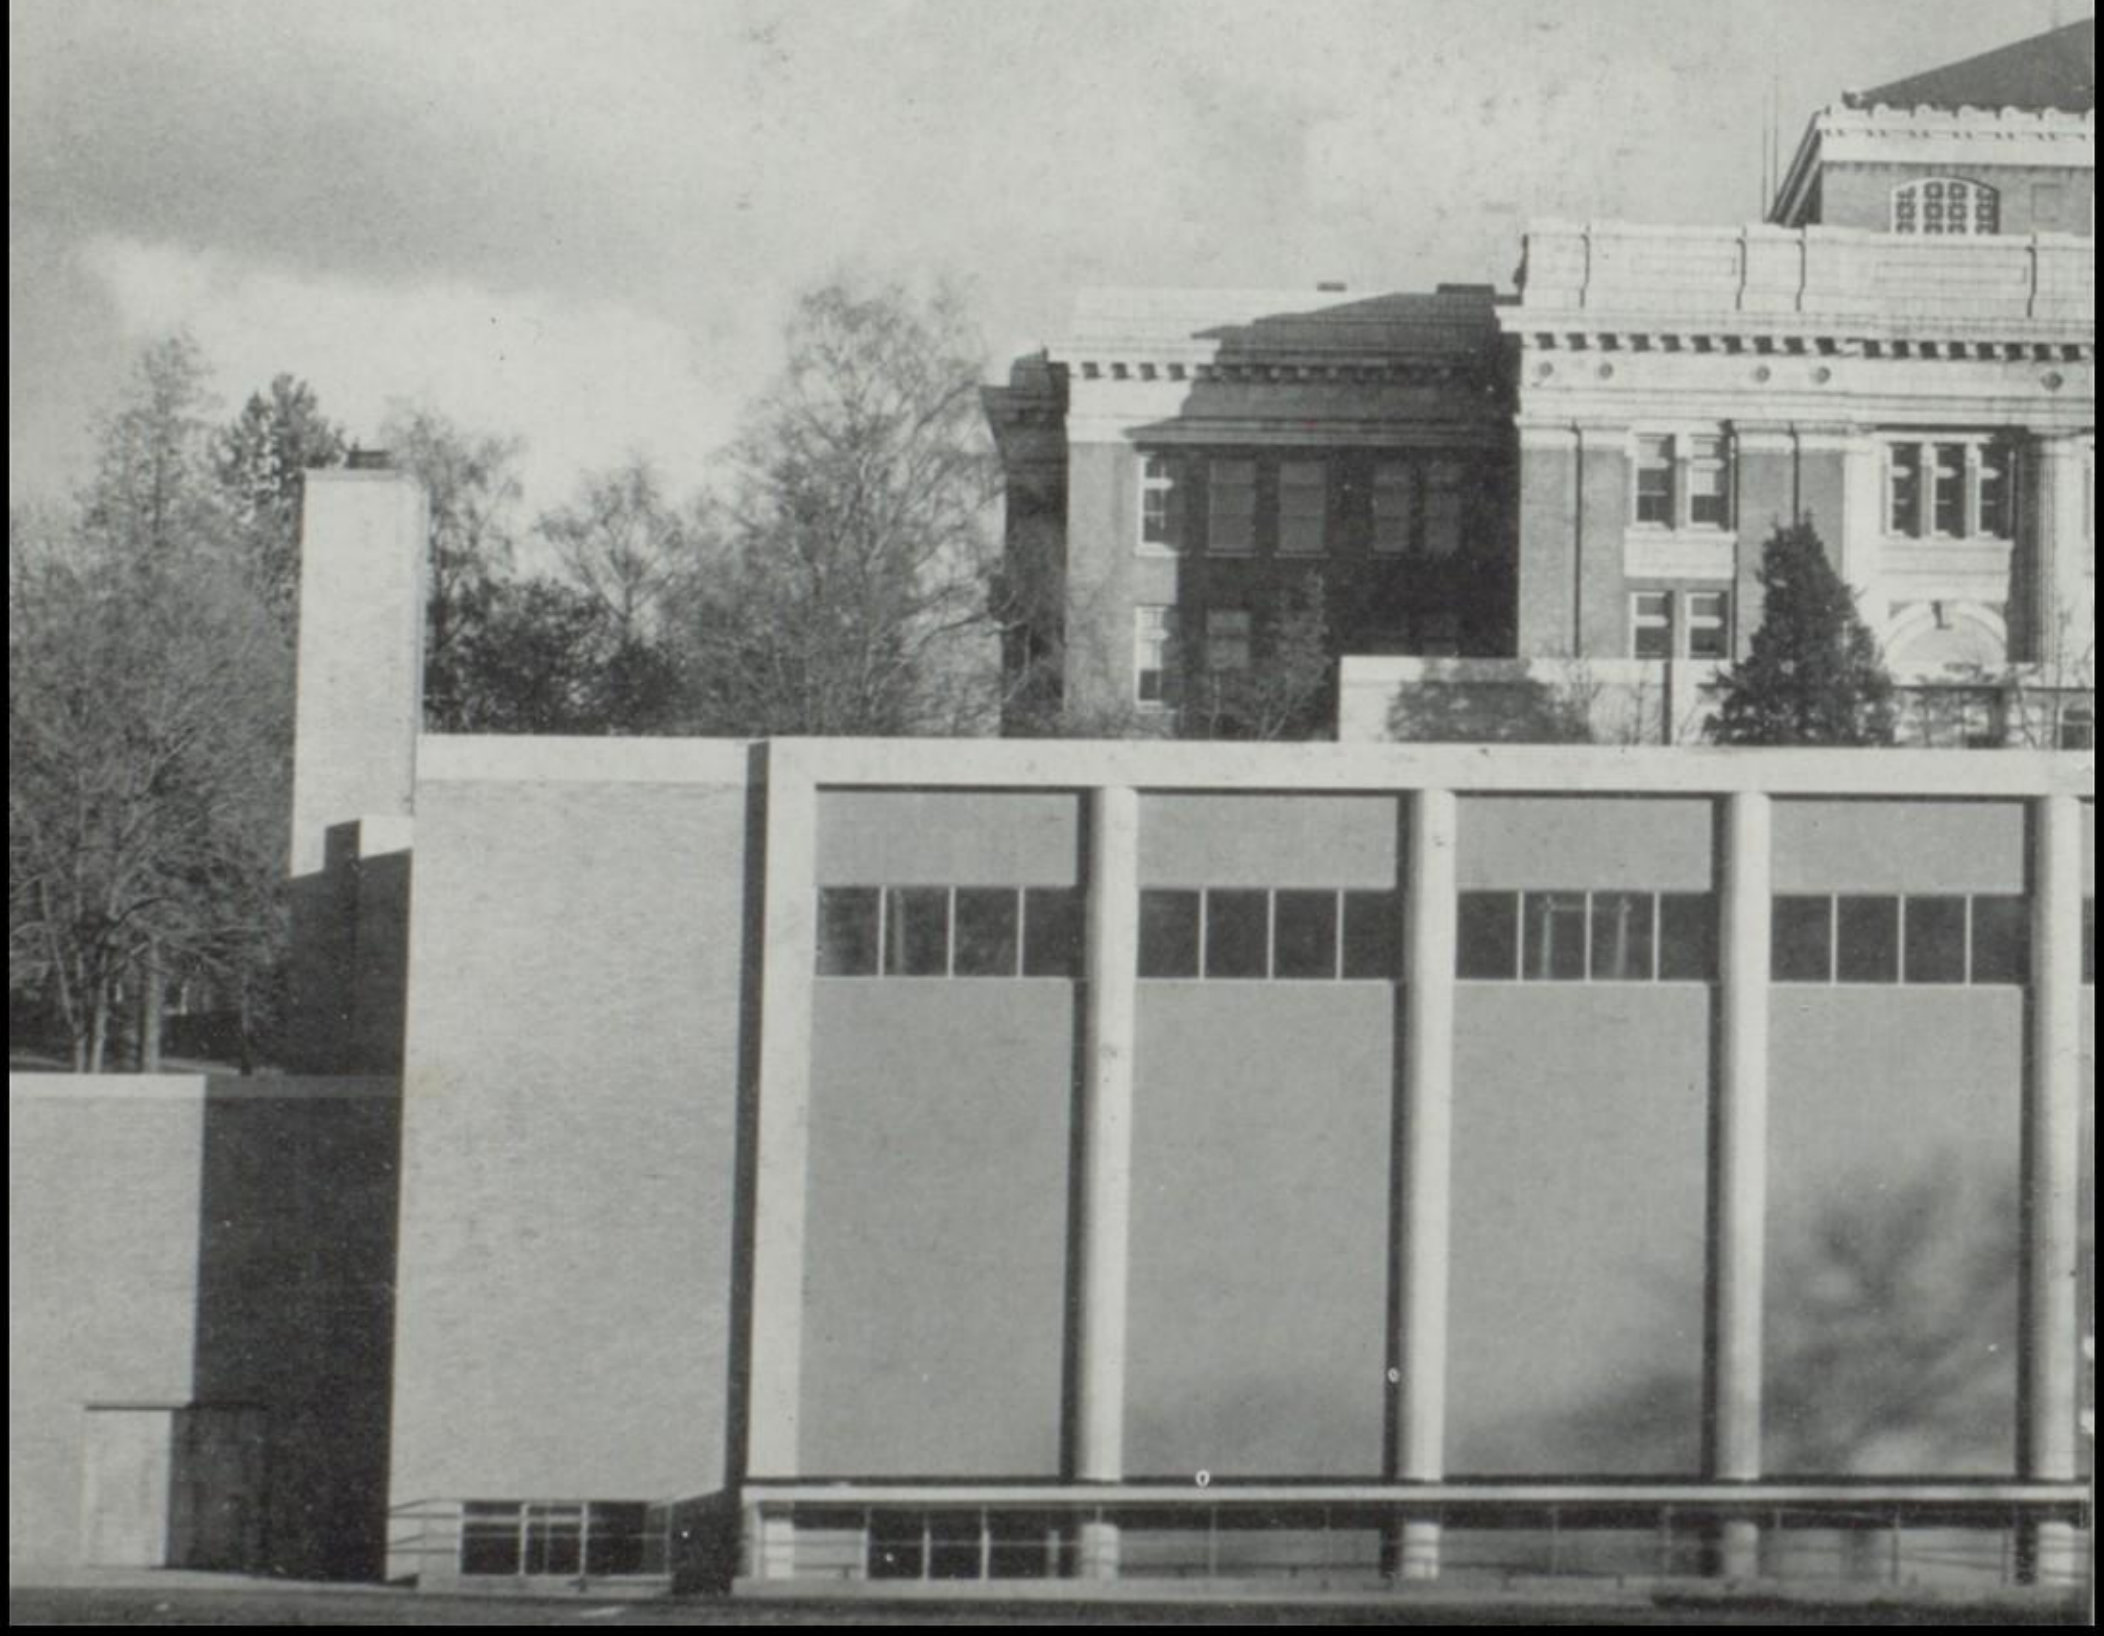
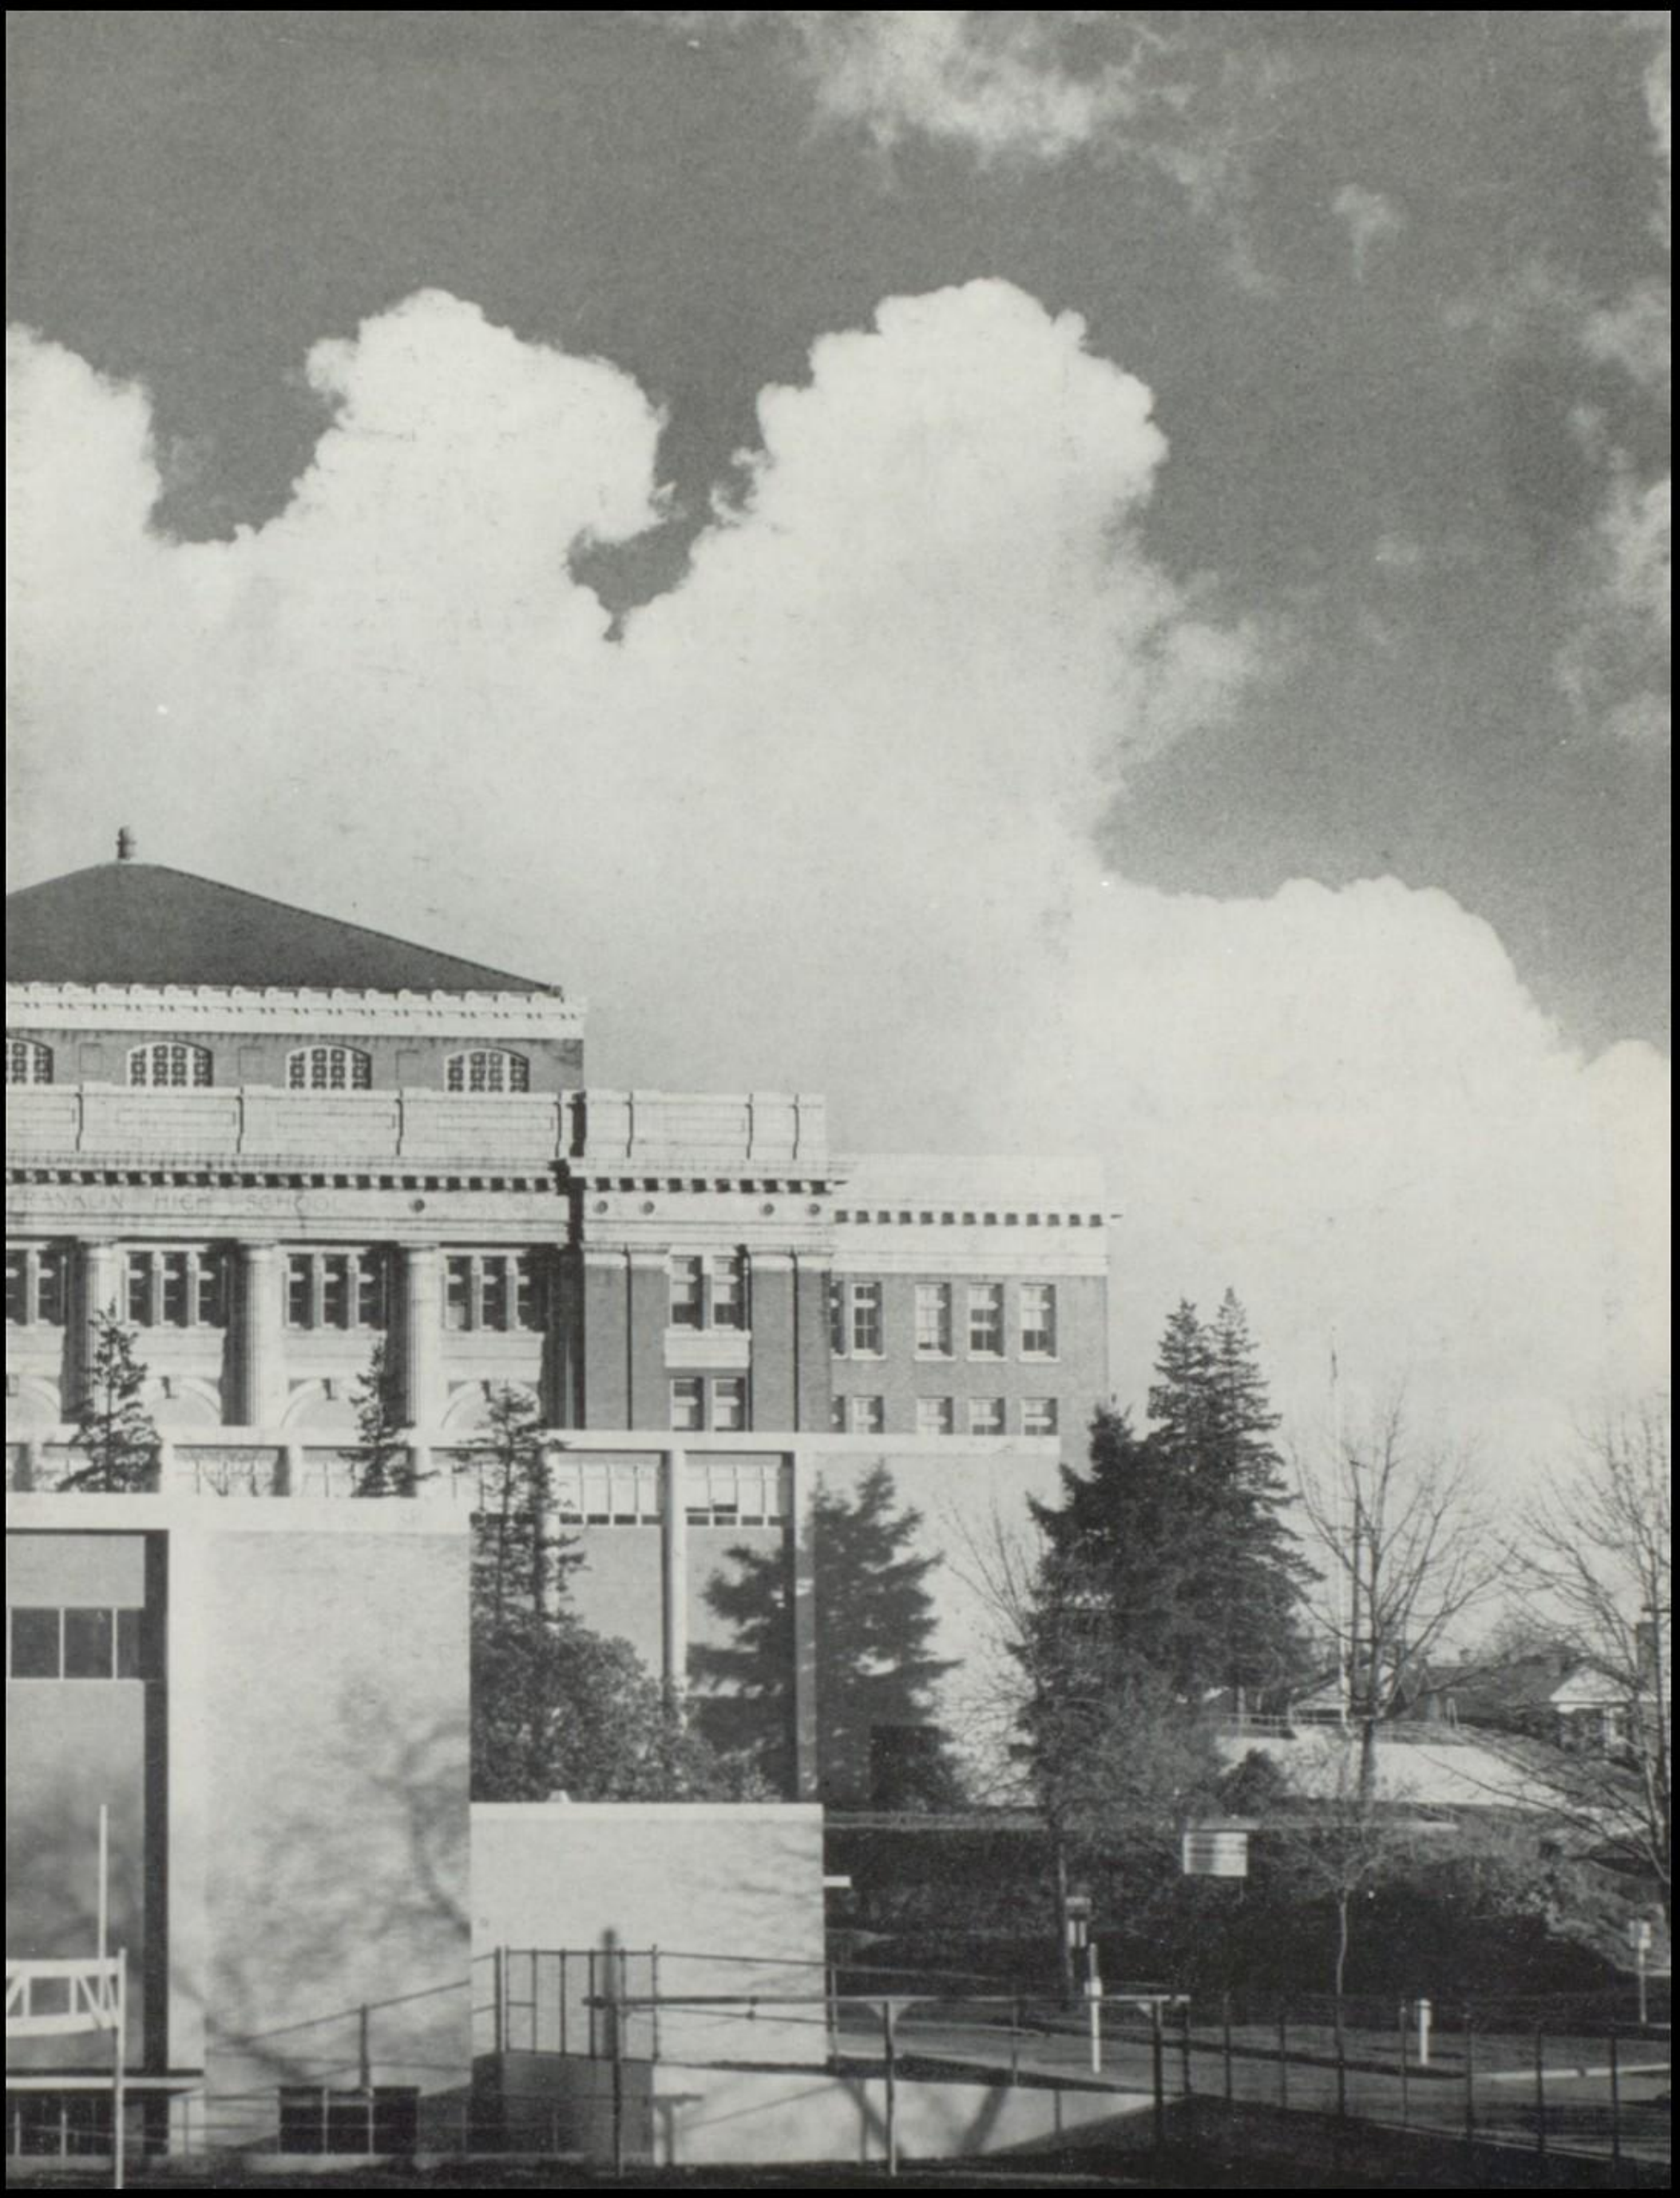
All Hail Franklin High School
Our colors deep and true
Stand as a symbol of our love for you.
All Hail Franklin High School
We sing our praise to thee
In trial and in Victory.
All Hail, Franklin, Hail!





Award of Merit

Introducing a new school symbol.

Chief Sealth was originally honored by having his name chosen for our parent annual, that of Broadway High School.

The Indian motto means: "I have succeeded," "I have won," or "I have achieved."

"And still they gazed, and still the wonder grew
That one small head could carry all he knew."

from Goldsmith's description of the schoolmaster, in THE DESERTED VILLAGE

Ralph Richard Upton (1869-1935)

Son of a California '49er and later Oregon Supreme Court judge, Ralph R. Upton was born in Portland, Oregon. He was educated at Yale University, from which he received Bachelor's and Master's degrees, and at George Washington University where he took degrees in law. He was a school administrator in Ohio and Illinois before coming to Seattle in 1912 as safety man, first for Stone and Webster Railway Co. and later for Puget Sound Power and Light where he originated the famous safety slogan: "STOP-LOOK-LISTEN."

Mr. Upton became head of Franklin's English department in 1913 and during the next twenty years was not only a brilliant teacher but an inspiring adviser of Tolo Annual, Tolo Weekly, Debate and Oratory. In 1932 he organized the speech contest which has been successively known here as the Upton Contest, the Aristelle MacDonald Contest, and the Walter Reseburg Contest.

Jesse R. Hurley

Born and educated in Pecatonica, Illinois, Jess Hurley attended Knox College at Galesburg, Illinois, where he received highest honors in Biblical Literature. After two years he interrupted his college career to teach for three years in a small high school a few miles from his home. He received A.B. and A.M. degrees in English from the University of Illinois and remained there for several years to teach and do graduate study. He studied under Professor Thomas Baldwin, international authority on Shakespeare, and Neil C. Brooks, famous German scholar and life-time student of medieval liturgical drama. From 1935 to 1937, Mr. Hurley taught English at Washington State College (now University). He came to Franklin in 1937 and has taught here ever since. His three daughters have all attended Franklin.

Mr. Hurley is well known for his culinary skill and for his large collection of gourmet's recipes. He is a bibliophile and has a large and varied private library. Music has been one of his chief hobbies; he has studied piano, pipe organ, and voice, especially German Lieder. He has a large collection of music and records.

1960 Editor Speaks

FOUR YEARS AGO the Tolo was dedicated to freedom and reflected the honor of the Bellamy Award for Franklin High's loyalty, patriotism, love of country and good citizenship. Into this stimulating atmosphere we came as Freshmen. We worked and played together as a team with the help of an outstanding faculty and led by our Freshman cabinet.

The majority of us came as Sophomores to the Sensational Sixties. The Tolo of 1959 was dedicated to Walter J. Reseburg, a great man and beloved principal. We were influenced by his drive for good sportsmanship, high scholastic standards, and enthusiasm for worthwhile things. We shared Franklin's democratic living and freedom. We felt personally responsible not to abuse these principles.

Our Junior Tolo honored all teachers, staff members, and students who have made "Old" Franklin a great school. We looked forward to progress under the inspiration of our new principal, Mr. Garrison. Additions and improvements were begun at Franklin and as Juniors we continued to better our minds, our attitudes, and our characters striving to develop those qualities which will help us during our lives. The new constitution was adopted and a new type of student government came into being.

In this our Senior year there has not only been a change in the building, but also the general concepts by which the school is being directed. Among the changes around the school is the Activities Office. Here emanates all student operations, achievements, and performances. A new roll room system was tried and has proven successful.

All these experiences have added to the knowledge we have gained here at Franklin. We go forth better equipped to take our place as citizens of this changing universe.

In this constantly changing world, it seems that many of our most brilliant technological advances are almost obsolete by the time they are perfected. I find it very comforting to reflect that certain things never change, simply because these things cannot be improved.

These things are the moral and spiritual values that have made our nation great. Honesty, integrity, respect for oneself and for other persons, reverence for a Creator, intellectual curiosity, clean-mindedness, loyalty, patriotism; these are constant and unchanging principles that our schools strive to perpetuate. They give us a comfortable, solid place to stand while the world swirls madly around us. They provide science with a conscience.

HARRY L. GARRISON—U. of W., Stanford; B.S. in Educ.; Math., Educ. Administration, Psychology; Physics, Chemistry; Phi Delta Kappa. 1933—Republic High; 1934-1936 Wenatchee Jr. High (Gen. Science); 1936-1944 Queen Anne (Math, Boys' Advisor, 1939-40); 1945-1950 Broadway (V. Prin.); 1950-1954 Franklin (V. Prin.); 1954-1958 Cleveland (Prin.); 1958-to date, Franklin (Prin.).

Franklin Quakers, whose pictures and activities are recorded in this book, will use, or fail to use, the education acquired at Franklin in a world quite different than the one we are familiar with today. It is certain that the next fifty years will be years of rapid changes, changes in all kinds of things affecting human beings, and how they live.

Folks who yearn for the "Good Old Days" and dream of the past will be most unhappy, for there will be no good old days, only "Good New Days," in which the expression "You ain't seen nothing yet" will be all too true.

A society, undergoing rapid change, whose membership is not educated to understand and to guide this change, is likely to deteriorate and to disintegrate in time. One great purpose of education is to prepare our youth for intelligent, wise citizenship in a future way of life which will be different in many ways from that characteristic of today.

To assure that these differences will be constructive rather than destructive, helpful to mankind rather than hurtful, and truly the result of democratic processes, will require of all Franklin Quakers continued lifelong learning. This lifelong learning will be not only their responsibility but also their greatest resource as they pursue the "great adventure" in the world of tomorrow.

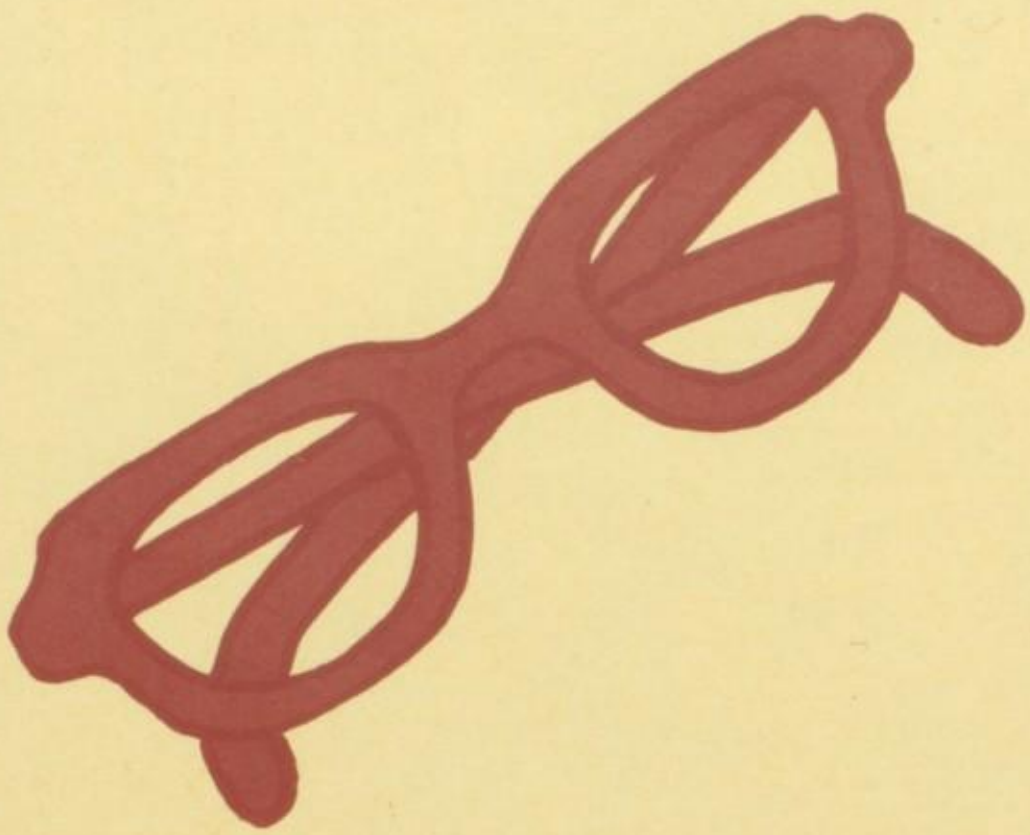
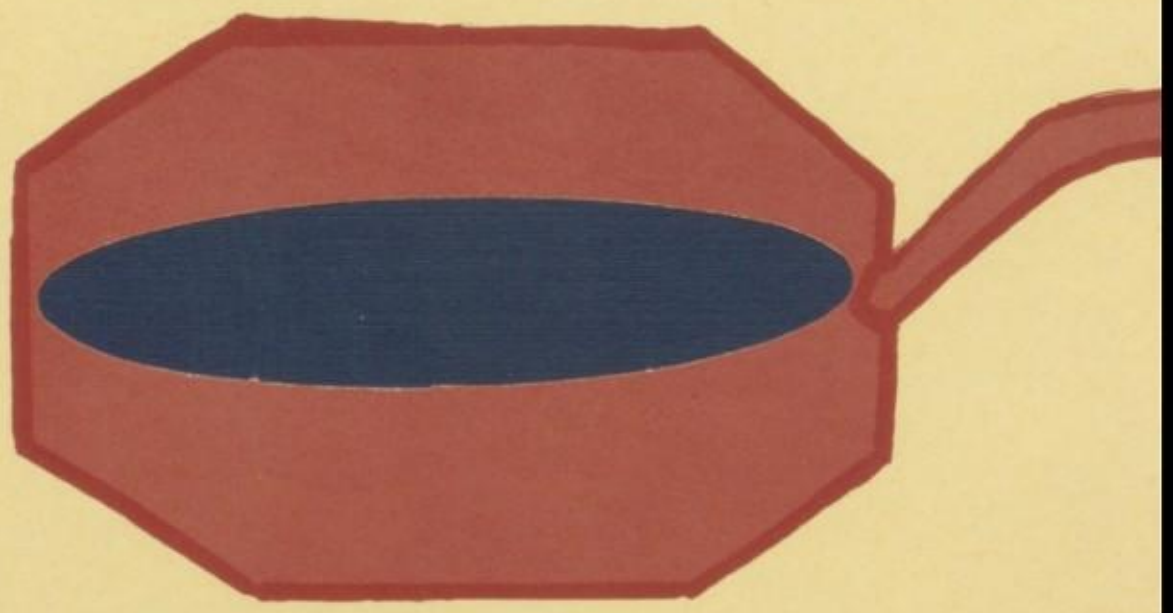
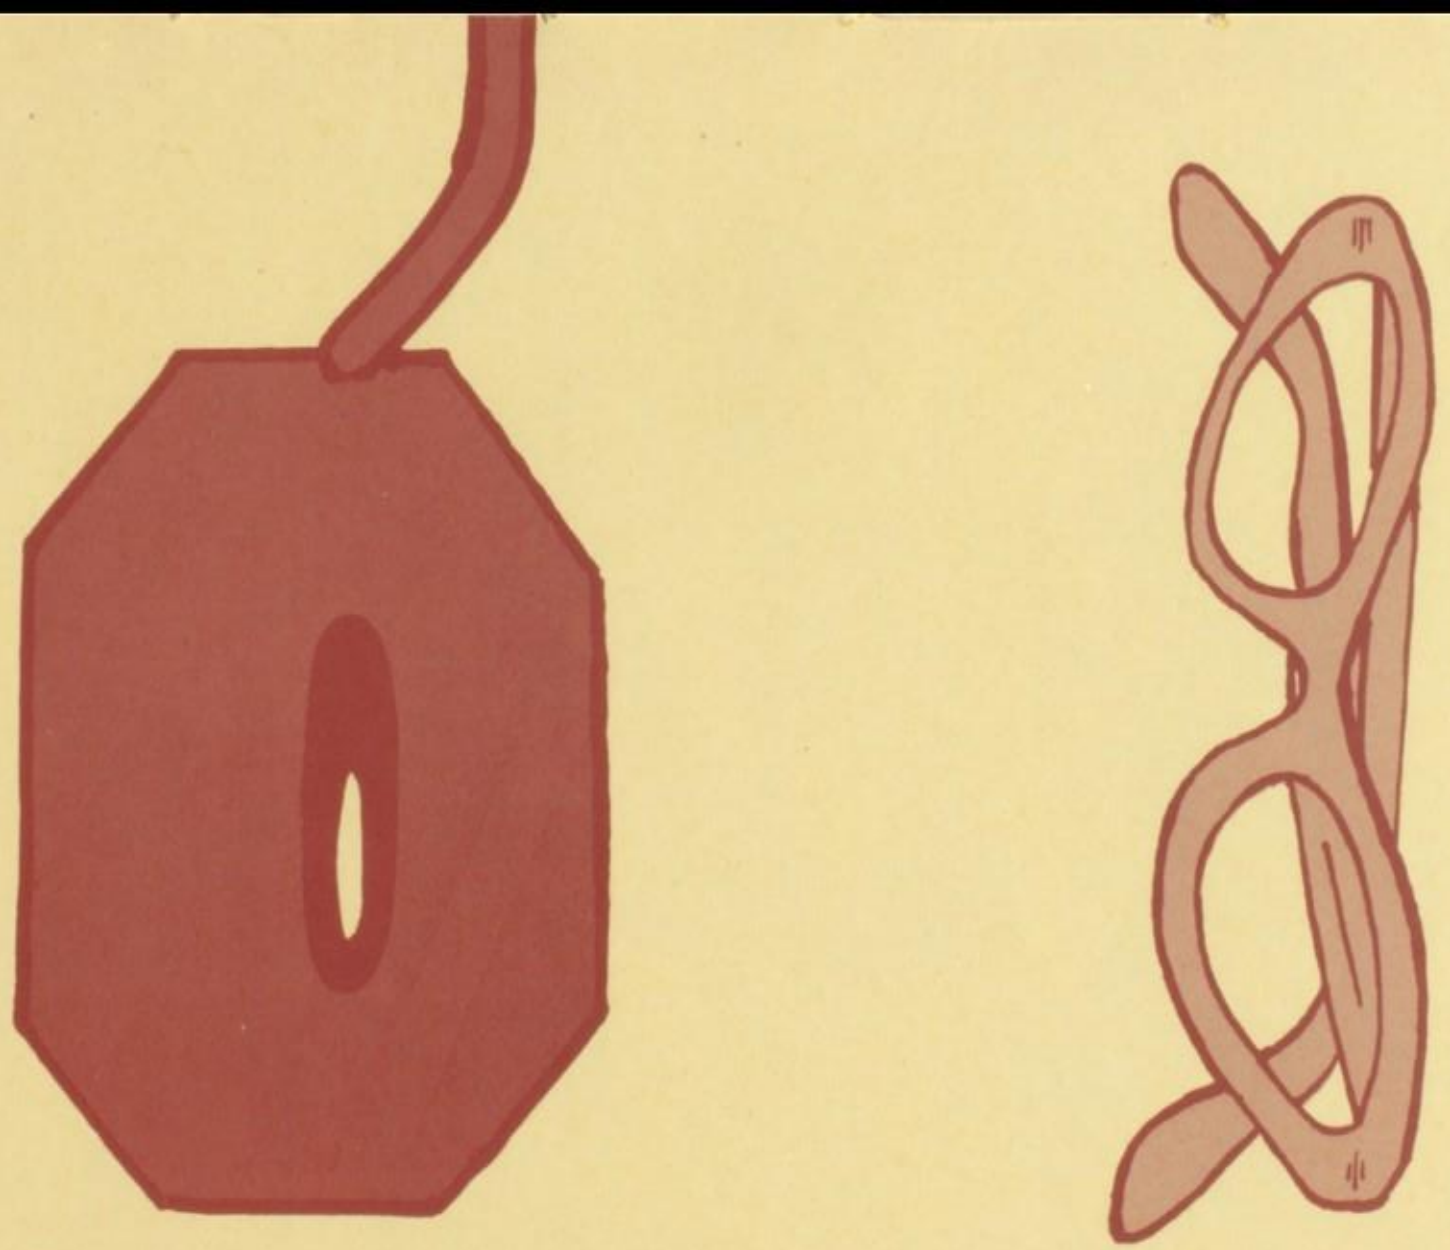
FACULTY







FACULTY

Franklin has been a school of great teaching. At the re-dedication on January 28, alumni were able to greet some of their favorite mentors. Margaret McCarney was Franklin's first and much loved girls' advisor but boys as well remembered her as an inspired science teacher. She served both old and new Franklin until her retirement in 1950. Agnes Quigley developed linguistic skills in her classes in Spanish; she came to Franklin in 1914 and retired in 1957. Other retired teachers back that evening included Noah Davenport, former history department head (1914-1955); Ralph Knapp, physical education teacher and boys' adviser (1919-1958); Doug Kirk, football coach and history teacher (1927-1940); Lydia Lindberg (1915-1950), teacher of English and coach of Upton contest; and Walter Reseburg (1912-1958), science teacher, coach, boys' advisor, vice principal and principal. Greetings came from Margaret Gorman of Olivet, Michigan; Helma Kuehn at Reno, Nevada; and others. Many former Franklin teachers now teaching elsewhere in Seattle were also back.

This Department has offered no less than twenty-three different courses during the tenancy of the Class of 1960. In addition to the required courses, some took advantage of the reading improvement classes which were offered; some few combined our LA with social studies down in Room 3; others substituted Journalism for LA 11, thus starting a whole new interest in writing and reporting; others took Laboratory Writing and turned out some mighty creative composition; many specialized in Drama and became the leading thespians of our school; others turned to Debate for practice in rhetoric; some took Publications, the course which made this Tolo possible; those who planned for college careers took a double course of LA 12 either by taking it a full year or by engaging in Senior Reading.

7. Jesse R. Hurley—U. of Ill., B.A. and M.A.; English; German; History, and Latin; Phi Beta Kappa and High Honors in English.
8. Nan Jardine—U. of W., B.A.; English Lit.; History; Delta Kappa Gamma.

There has been a great impetus in the study of foreign languages nation-wide. Franklin has 30 classes, with 40 percent of the student body enrolled in French, German, Latin, and Spanish. We were the only school in the city to offer Italian in the last few years.

We are pleased that our two neighboring Junior High Schools, Sharples and Mercer, send us students who have already begun the study of a language and are able to continue until fluency has been attained.

Honors classes have been established in the language field and are proving most beneficial for the serious-minded foreign-language student.

We are grateful that Franklin was selected as the Senior High School in the city to have an electronically-equipped language laboratory.

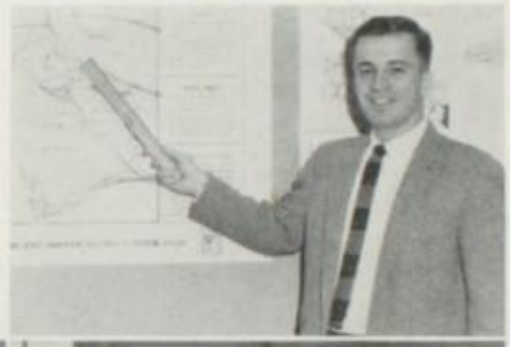
10. Thomas Rekenthaler—U. of W., U. of Calif., B.A., Russian and Slavic Studies; Philosophy.



Probably the most obvious change in the Social Studies Department was the ability-grouping of classes. This policy was inaugurated in an attempt to educate each student according to his needs. Students and teachers alike have been overwhelming in their praise of this program.

Franklin's Math. Department is presently in a period of experiment and change. Because of increased emphasis on sound Mathematics, both in content and teaching, no static condition prevails.

In elementary Algebra one class is using the new School Mathematics Study Group texts as a member of the Seattle Ninth Grade Center. This is part of a national program sponsored by the National Science Foundation. Accelerated Geometry classes are also using S.M.S.G. material emphasizing the analytical approach to Geometry. One class in grade eleven is a member of 'the national S.M.S.G. program as is one twelfth grade Mathematical Analysis class. Franklin's Mathematics Teachers are active in S.M.S.G. as writers, teachers and critics. Others have been associated with the General Electric program and advanced work at the University of Washington.

While emphasizing the changing material for college capable students, the department has not relaxed its concern or intensity of effort in the welfare of pupils striving only to meet minimum graduation requirements.

Much new instructional material is being received from the National Defense program to be made available to all.

Franklin may now boast of a series of science rooms second to none in the city. We have eight rooms in all. Three of these are for biology, two for health, one general purpose room, and one each for chemistry and physics. A fine type of table has replaced the old type of desk. All rooms are capable of accommodating thirty-two pupils. The chemistry and physics rooms have a new seating arrangement which permits all students to see equally well from all parts of the room. Finally, to the delight of the teacher, he now has a workroom in the rear of the classroom to call his very own.

Teachers in the Business Education Department find the location of the Typing, Shorthand, Business English, Bookkeeping, and Office Practice classrooms on the first floor very convenient. New machines, cupboards and furniture make the Office Practice Room located in 107 very pleasant. The old ticket booth makes a very nice office and adding machine room for the bookkeeping classes.

The Business Education Department has a new room, 207, for Retailing, Business Law and Business Arithmetic. It has a new display counter, lights and closet space for Retailing. We use this room for classes in Shorthand I.

We are pleased that teachers can change rooms without undue hardship.

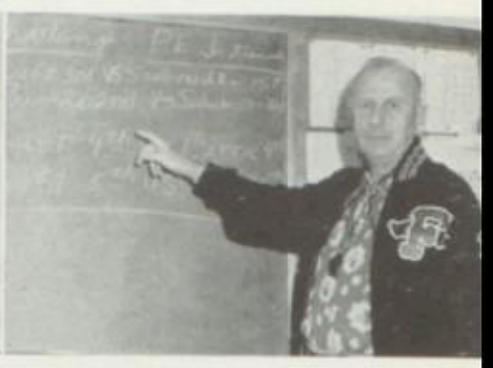
In our new and modern shops, the class of 1960 is seeing the culmination of hopes and dreams that have been in our minds ever since I became a member of the faculty in 1940. The additional shops and the latest in mechanical and electronic equipment have enabled us to expand our curriculum to include courses which meet the demand for college preparation in the engineering fields as well as courses in gas engine and boat building.

New rooms for music and remodeled quarters for arts make possible new approaches in these areas.



Our Franklin girls were greeted with improved physical education facilities on their return to school in the fall. The new Girls' Gym consists of the boys' and girls' old gyms and room 52. The new dressing rooms, shower rooms, basket rooms, teachers' offices, and storage rooms are the main remodeling improvements.

The building of the new Boys' Gymnasium provides two excellent teaching stations. The instructors can now carry on a diversified program which was not possible under the old set-up. This year weight training, tumbling apparatus, volleyball, and badminton, along with the teaching of athletic skills are offered to all physical education students.

A new counseling office with a reception room and offices for four counselors gives facilities for an improved guidance program. One counselor is assigned to each class: Miss Strain to Seniors, Miss Cline to Juniors, and Mr. Schott to Sophomores; each will continue with a class until it graduates. Two part-time counselors assist: Mr. Keyes works with attendance problems primarily; Mr. Callow coordinates the testing program.

SENIORS

Honoring our namesake, and the famous American patriot, we at Franklin set aside a day to commemorate the traditional birthday of Benjamin Franklin. For this day, two individuals exemplifying the true Franklin spirit are chosen to represent Ben and his wife, Deborah.

Recognition is given to each class by having their all-around athlete, student actor, musician, artist and their honor roll announced. The class officers, with their advisors, are introduced and the president of each class delivers a speech. The presentation of the Quill, representing the spirit of Franklin leadership, to the senior class is a highlight of the assembly.

The original plans and script for this assembly were written in 1952 by Jerry Sando under the direction of Miss Aristelle MacDonald. Through the years, outstanding students of Franklin have been given the honor.

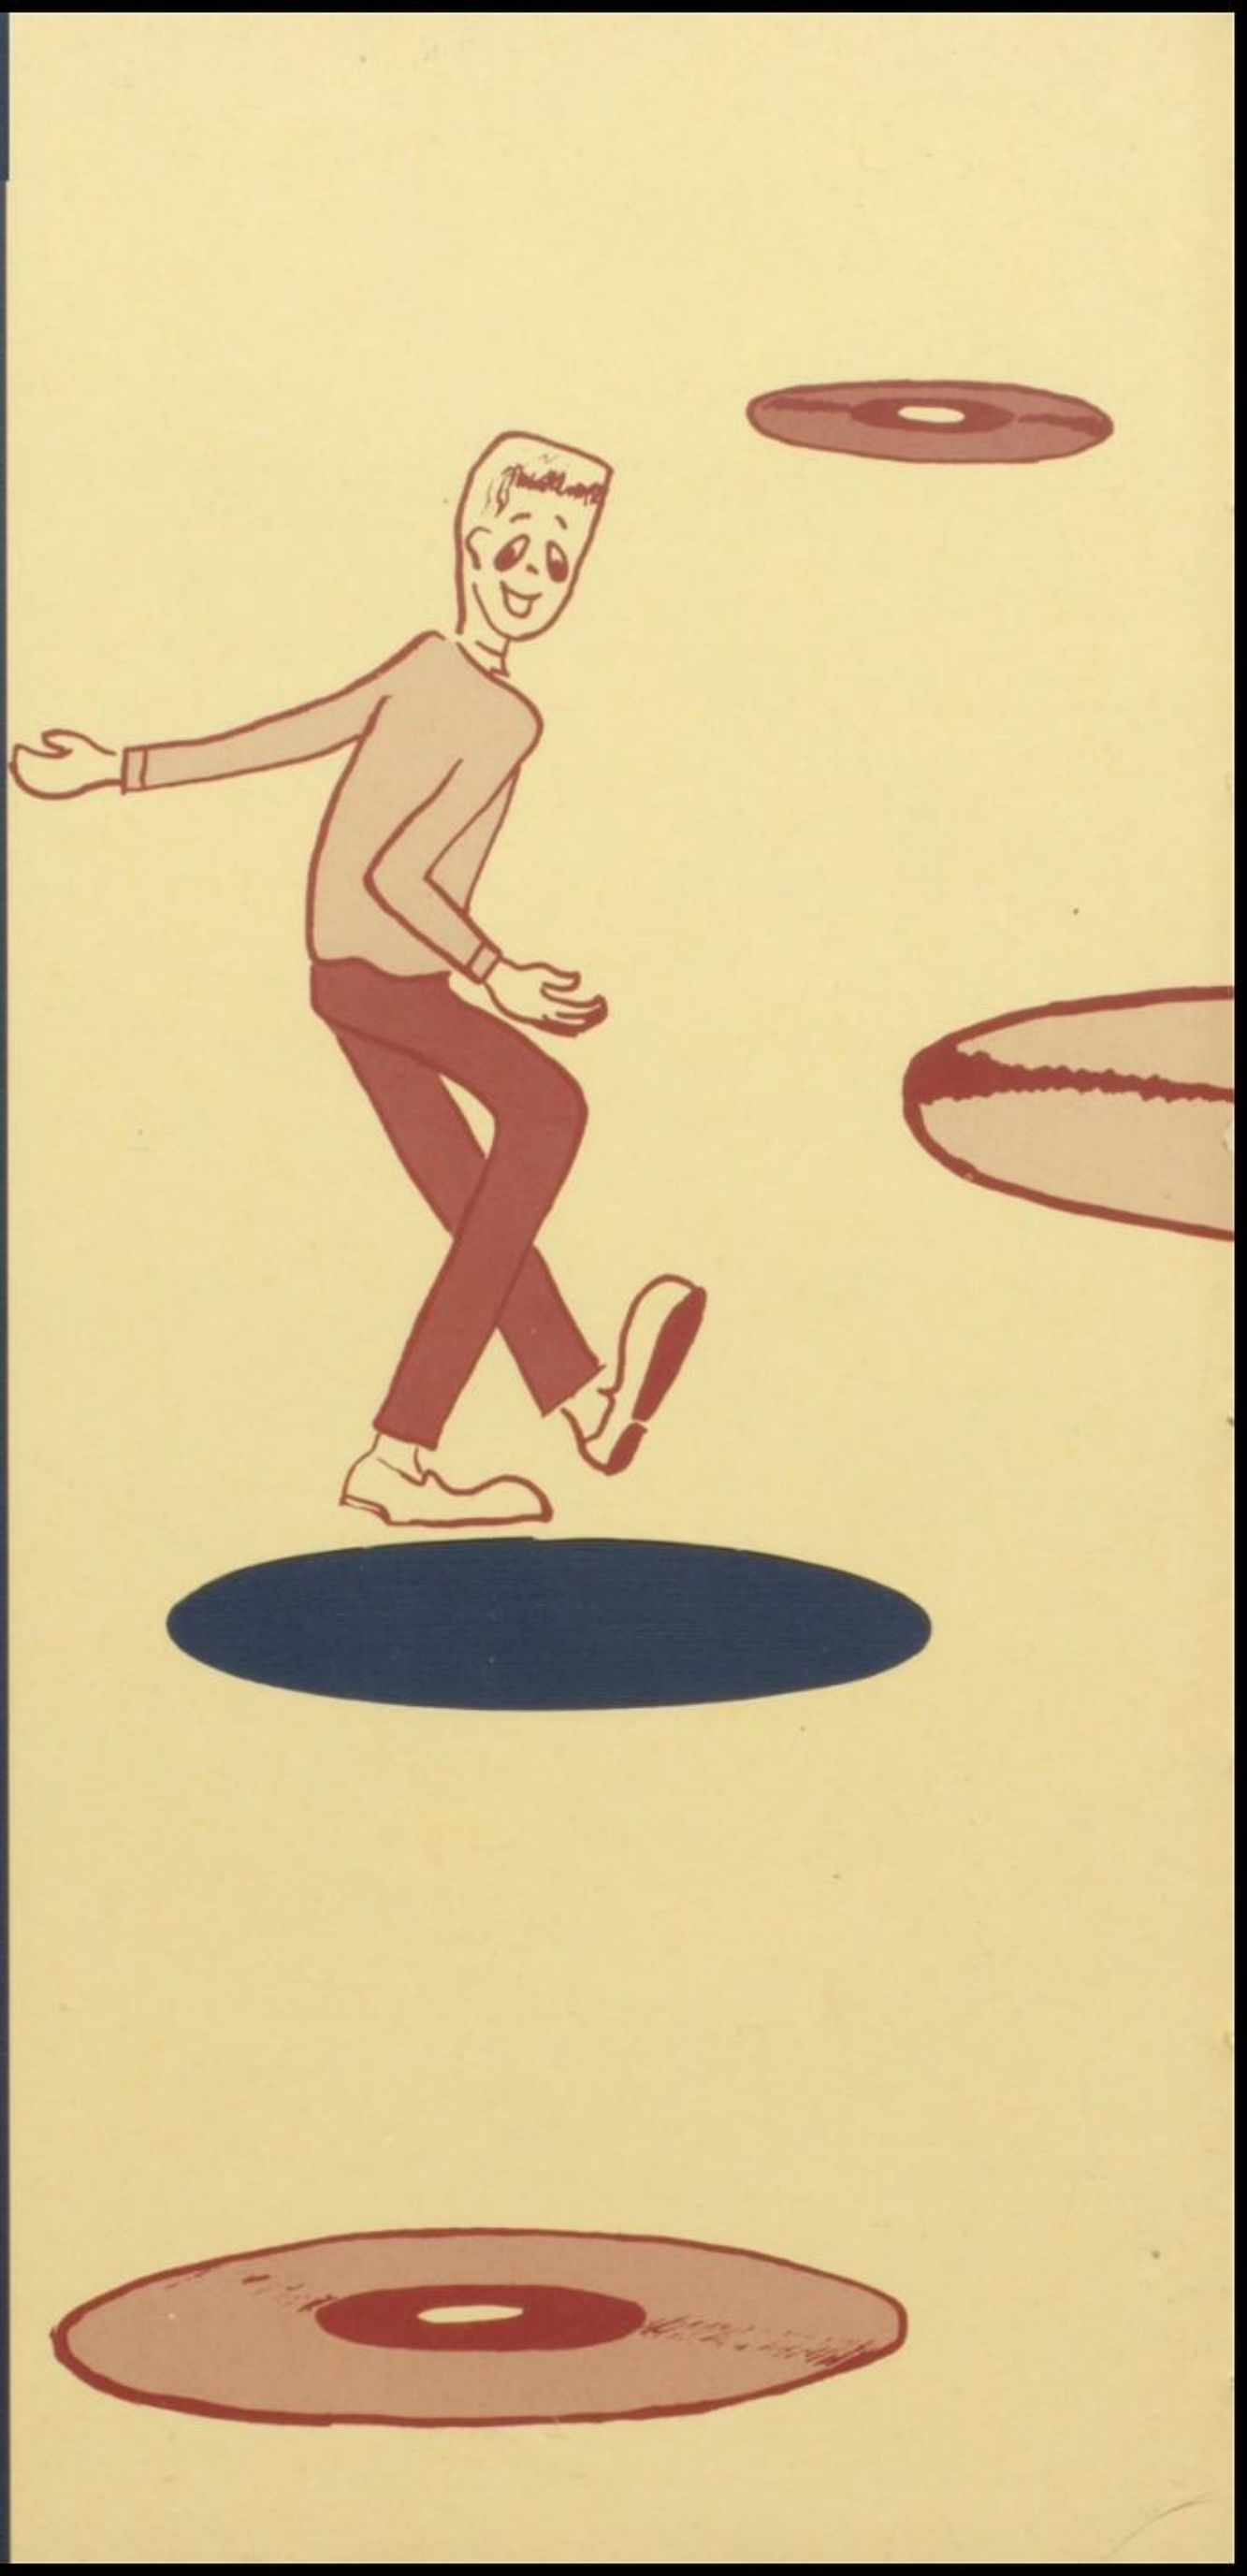
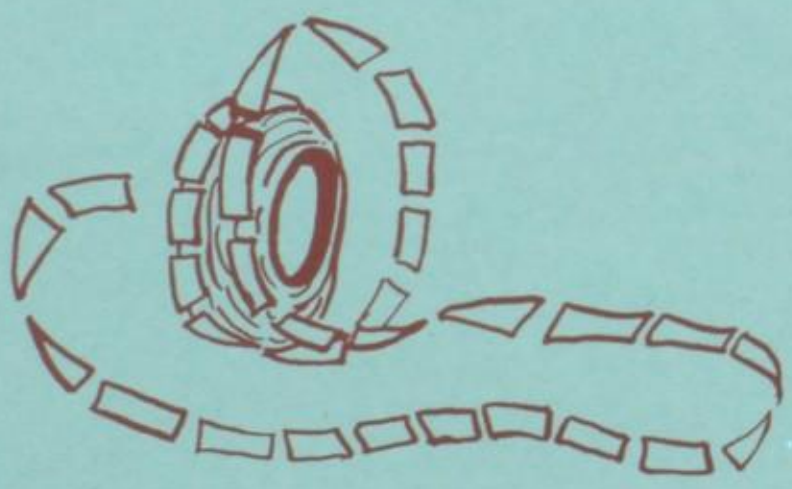
ACTIVITIES



ACTIVITIES



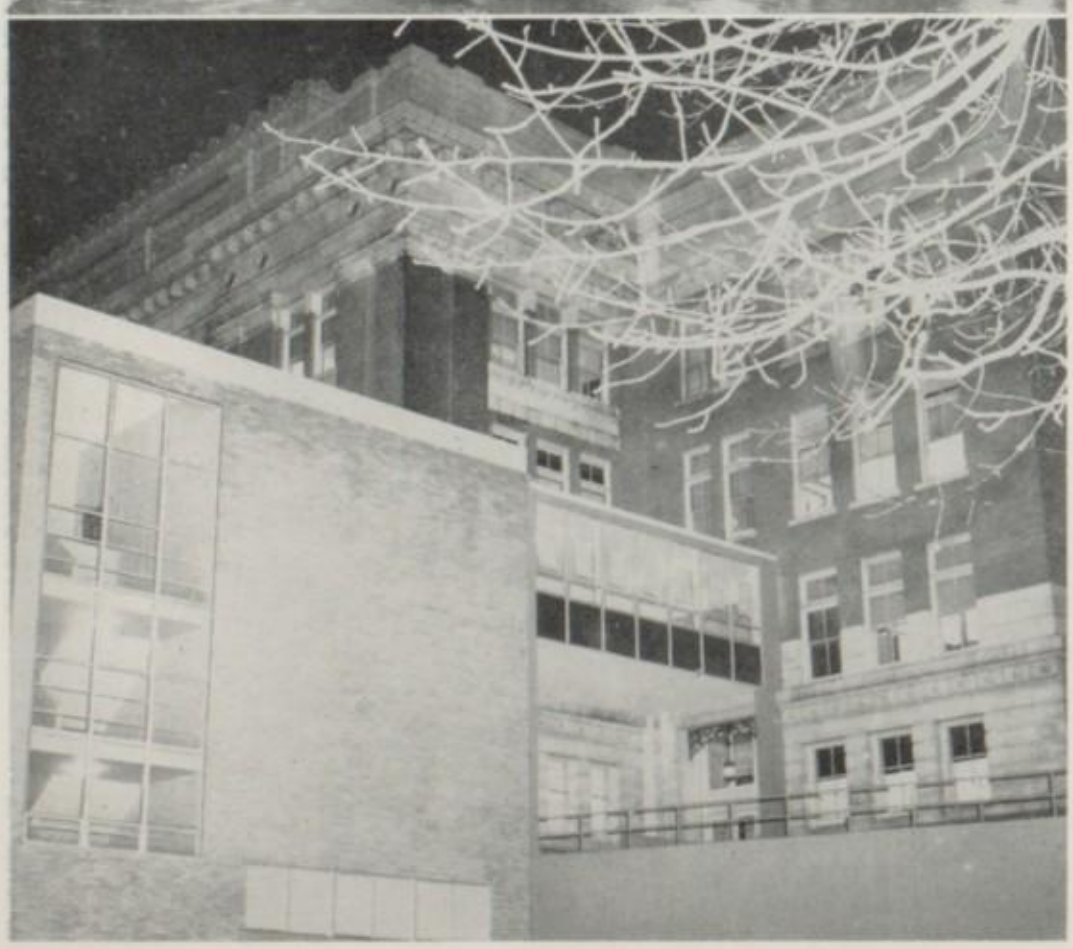
What is school spirit? School spirit isn't just yelling and screaming at football games and pep assemblies. It's also loyalty towards the school as a whole and participating in school activities.

As a member of the student body at Franklin, one has clubs, organizations and sports activities with which to occupy oneself when away from the gruel of homework. Each student has an opportunity to show loyalty to his class by signing up with class committees and accepting responsibilities put forth to him. School spirit also means abiding by school rules and regulations, being loyal and friendly to faculty and administration, and co-operating with other members of the student body.

Participating in school songs and yells is only a small but important part of school spirit. The yell and song leaders do much during the year to promote good school spirit. The students at Franklin have always rallied faithfully behind their teams—win, lose or draw.

Franklin is now operating under modernized facilities, a larger student body and a new student government and Constitution. But school spirit at Franklin hasn't changed. Franklin can still count on student support for school projects such as the food and clothing drive and light bulb sale.

School spirit is only what you make it. So, come on Quakers. Let's really show that "great Franklin spirit."



Rebuilt and Re-dedicated for

A Better School
A Better Community
A Better World

In continuous existence, our high school is now the oldest in Seattle. We antedated Lincoln by one year and Queen Anne by three. We were housed from 1906 to 1912 in what is now Washington Junior High. Here we achieved autonomy from our parent school, Broadway; began publishing Tolo; chose green and black as our school colors, and developed the now famous Quaker spirit.

In 1912 the original part of this building was opened. At one time a creek flowed under the present Room 2 location and architects and workmen on the recent remodeling found the current water table just below the locker room level of our new gym. Expansion has been handicapped by limitations of the building site and by the massive construction of the original building. Our gym and track are over a garbage fill, once the location of the Malmo Nursery; the Boulevard is dedicated property which cannot be vacated; the bearing walls of the original structure are from two to three feet thick. For the first years the stage was backed by a heavy plaster shell or dome. At one time the building was nicknamed "Naramore's Nightmare" because of difficulties of architectural change and because of the large, unused attic. However, our lunchroom floor and ceiling are suspended from trusses, which are housed in the attic, which also supports the dome. So our unused attic is really very important architecturally. The corridors are all concrete but most classrooms have wood joists.

In 1925, the building was much enlarged by the opening of the east wing. Other changes and improvements were made through the years. In 1962 we will celebrate the 50th anniversary of this building, but already we are well started on the second half century of Franklin's service to the community, the city, the state, the nation and the world.

The old Ionic columns and Greek front of our building have been largely covered by a modern facade which is representative of the many changes inside the building.

Visitors either to Open House or the Rededication will appreciate the rain-drenched night view of the south front of the building, for which we are indebted to Mrs. Ann Stone.

NIGHT FLIGHT

(written in July 1942)

The night was cool and still and clear,
A night for thoughts returning home—
Of things away and yet brought near
All gently lulled, by the motors' hum.

We flew in tired peacefulness
Above a hazy fog
That blended things of earth and man
Together, by the Hand of God.

I wondered as we flew that night
If over there they felt the same,
If other boys loved beauty too
And longed for peace again.

Oh, let not hate's dark shadow,
Black out the western sky.
But grant that brotherhood bless all:
For this, we proudly die!

—Jack Finley, Class of '38

(This poem by Mrs. Wettleson's eldest son, who was killed in a plane crash shortly after these lines were written, is herewith dedicated to all former Franklinites who made the supreme sacrifice.)

Master of Ceremonies

Our Own "Mister Franklin"

Walter J. Reseburg, our former principal, used to say, "At Franklin we do not need to teach tolerance. In our wide halls, in our classrooms, in our lunchroom, in our auditorium students of all races and all faiths mingle, work together, and become friends." We have two new centers for this democratization process: the many-windowed foyers between the old and new wings and our new activities' center. Activities have always been at the core of our Franklin fellowship and friendship; but they were formerly housed all over the building. Now they are centered in Room 162 under the co-ordination of Mr. Lanman. The Student Council and Boys' Club function here under his direction. The Girls' Club, advised by Mrs. Lowry, originate all their projects here. Sports, publications, clubs, musical organizations, class officers and working groups—all the parts of our extensive student activities program—come here for counseling and clearance. Room 162 is truly the heart of Franklin.

Busy with girls' club activities and acting as girls' club advisor is our own Mrs. Lowry. During her "spare time," Mrs. Lowry teaches four gym classes.

Overseer of all Franklin athletics is Harvey Lanman. He is boys' advisor, student activities co-ordinator and student council advisor. In brief, our Mr. Lanman is superintendent of everything except discipline and curriculum here at Franklin.

Franklin this year has had many new changes and editions. One of the most important of these has been a new constitution and a new form of student government. For the first time in the history of F. H. S. every student is represented by the members of the student council.

Formerly, a student had to belong to an organization in order to be represented in the student council. This year the school government is run by only 15 members representing the three classes, boys' and girls' clubs, and the roll council. Each student in the school is represented through these organizations.

Franklin students also have a better chance to voice their opinions in government this year. A student may take a problem to his roll representative. The roll representative in turn takes this item up in roll council. If the council finds that the item is important the roll council representatives may bring the problem before the student council. In this way, every Franklin student now may have a voice in the government of his school.

STUDENT COURT

New at Franklin this year is the Student Court. The purpose of the court is to give the students a responsibility of disciplining themselves and to encourage students to obey the laws of the Student Council.

Under the direction of Mr. Malnati the five court judges carry out their duties which are hearing, discussing and deciding upon an appropriate verdict and punishment.

The Building and Grounds Committee is also a part of the Student Court. Their job is to give tickets to students found smoking near the school, crowding in the lunch line, littering the grounds, etc.

The court has done an excellent job and there has been a noticeable improvement at Franklin.

BOYS' CLUB

The newly elected Boys' Club officers started off with a bang toward the closing of last year. Cleaning of the school and readying it for summer vacation were among the first activities.

At the beginning of the year it was their job to issue lockers to all new boys. The Canned Food Drive ended with a big smash as food cans piled in from everywhere.

For all assemblies the Boys' Club presents the color guard. When participation cards were on sale, the Boys' Club loaned money to those who wanted to borrow it.

In the future, there are many plans for the Boys' Club. A picnic at the end of the year will prove to be full of fun and excitement.

GIRLS' CLUB

Girls' Club again this year, as every year, has been contributing to the activities of the girls at Franklin High.

Among the many things they have done the following are included: At the first of the year the new Sophomore girls, as well as other new members to our halls, were treated to the annual Get Acquainted Party. Another important event which has enlightened this past year were the Sign Ups, in which all girls were able to choose the committee on which they would most like to serve. This event is presented both semesters.

Another highlight of the year is the semi-annual Min-Con which occurs at the beginning of each semester. Here the committee chairman and their officer in charge meet and discuss their acitivities of the semester.

Other events which Girls' Club has contributed to are the Dads' Night, co-sponsored with the Boys' Club; the Clothes Drive, to help the needy people of the South, and the Christmas Fund-Raising Project.

Another annual program offered to the girls and their mothers was the Mother-Daughter Tea. Here, all the mothers were able to meet and get acquainted with some of the girls' teachers, as well as being served refreshments and enjoying entertainment from the Franklin students and faculty.

In conclusion to this festive year was the yearly Girls' Club officers and chairman installation. With the out-going officers, not only is hard work dismissed, but the joy and excitement of the contributions the girls have dedicated to the school are passed, but never forgotten.

A big event which took place this past year was the Father-Daughter-Son Banquet. Jim Owens, head of this year's winning University of Washington Huskies and sports' Man of the Year, was guest speaker.

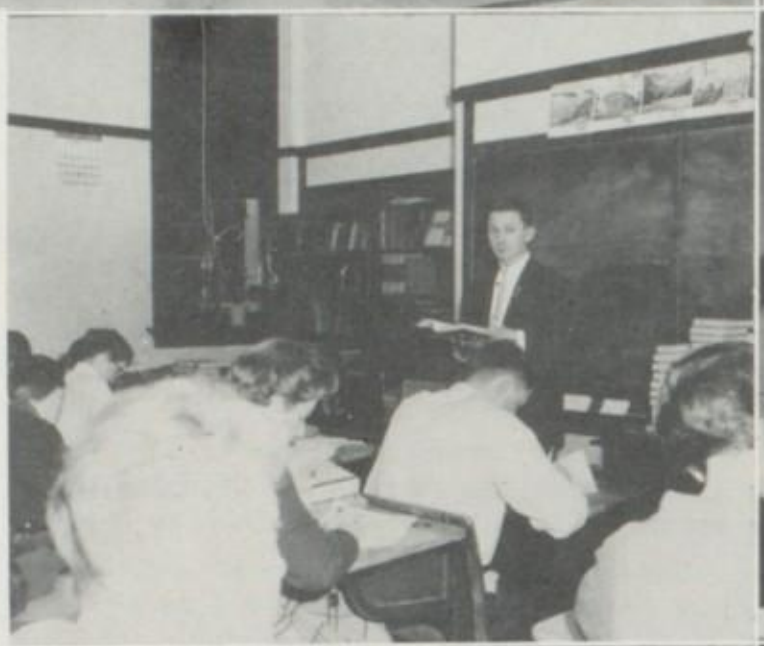
The decorations, carried out in the theme of King for a Night, were done in University of Washington colors—purple and gold—in honor of Mr. Owens.

Also entertaining the diners were magician John Zandt, a former Franklin student, and Garry Epps of Cleveland High School, who led group singing.

After the Girls' and Boys' Club Officers were introduced, Carol Dahlin, Girls' Club President, gave a welcoming speech, and Mr. Dahlin spoke on behalf of the fathers.

In conclusion, Master of Ceremonies, Colin Miller, also Boys' Club President, gave the following speech: "This is the first year we've had such a banquet and we all hope you Dads have enjoyed it as much as we have giving it. We also hope to see some of you again next year."

STUDENT



This year something new has been tried at Franklin. On certain days that the faculty is especially busy the students fill in at their positions. Every teacher's position, including that of the Principal and Vice Principal, is taken over by a student teacher and class is conducted in the usual manner. These students conduct the class while the teacher is making out grades or attending faculty meetings.

To be on the student faculty, the student signs up for a teacher and then is picked by elimination. A committee consisting of four teachers and five students then select the pupils who will represent the student faculty.

The student faculty has been very successful this year and is liked very much by the teachers and students. Both hope that it will be continued.

SCHOOL

B.E.C., Business Education Club, helps with various activities around the school. Their main purpose is providing a secretarial service for any teacher needing typing or other office work done. Some of their other duties are selling tickets for games and typing names on participation cards. Members are Hutchinson, Co-chairman; Mahoney, Treasurer; Nobuyama, Secretary; Poulsen, President; Banasky, Vice President; Lindquist, Activity Coordinator; Miss O'Hare, Advisor; Wimbush, Gutierrez, L. Moore, Antonelli, A. Moore, Curry, Herrera, Deahl, Annibal, Hartman, Hawley, Bliler, Fletcher, Faunce, Johnson, McCarty, Truscan, Kauzlarich, Melville, Corbett, Wolph, Jenkins, Anderson, Reed, Linscott, Bricker, Wilkes, Rothwell, Ethier, Christopherson, Pinto, Wilkinson, P. Holmes, E. Holmes, Peterson, Matsumoto and Billieart.

SPIRIT

Supplying song, cheer and enthusiasm at any and all Franklin games are song leaders Cindy Lochow, Arlene McCloud, Lynn Barrick, Kathy Jones, Pam Fukuda, Bev Topp, Judy Muramoto and Shirley Ovadia.

The hard-working usher squad guides and seats people at athletic events. They direct the crowd at all the basketball, football games, all home baseball games and one track meet. The members are Anderson, Douglas, Glenn, Hansen, Holley, Kimball, Kritzu, O'Dell (Capt.), Olson, Poska, Quinn, Reed, Rider, Woodin, Wendfeldt, Watt, Wanless and Rider.

Class Committee Chairmen are in charge of all the functions which the Senior Class sponsors. They are as follows: Don Williams, Sylvia Tannhauser, Judy Lee, Carolyn Jordan, Metha Mann, Bill Hirota, JoAnne Leo, Judy Oquist, Pete Haase, Lynn Martin, Harold McCloud.

JUNIOR CLASS OFFICERS

President, Craig Smith
Secretary, Katie Lanman
Advisor, Mrs. Campbell
Vice President, Melanie Cossalter
Treasurer, Faye Bush
Chairman of Chairmen, Linda Harned

The Junior Class of 1961 was very active this year with Mrs. Campbell as advisor.

At the first of the year they sold suckers which said, "Lick Lincoln" on them, just before the Franklin-Lincoln football game.

During basketball season, pencils were sold with the schedule of basketball games on them.

Three dances were sponsored by the Junior Class: "Harvest Moon," "Nothin' Much" and a Sock Dance after a basketball game.

The Junior Class is putting together the new Student Handbook which will be sold next year. The handbook contains facts about Franklin's history, traditions, regulations and activities.

The sensational class of '60 is happy to say, "It's been a grand year." Not content with achievements of the past, this year's senior class has taken new strides forward.

We hope that we have established a precedent in "Ben's Den" that will become tradition in future years. The founding (establishment) of "Ben's Den" has proven to be one of the finest school services—to both students and faculty.

Many students joined various senior class committees to organize and direct activities such as the Senior Luncheon, which was held May 12 at the Hub, in the University district.

Our fabulous Prom, "While We're Young," was the highlight of the year and took place May 27 in the famous ballroom of the Olympic Hotel. We believe this year's prom could not possibly be surpassed.

In the past four years we have worked and played alongside our fellow students, and without the excellent leadership of the counselor so wisely chosen to guide us, we would not be the "Sensational '60s!" We express our heartiest appreciation and gratitude to Mrs. Eva Doupe, our wonderful advisor.

With commencement we stand at the threshold of our adulthood, and so we go on to take our places, wherever they may be, in this fast-changing world in which we live.

SOPHOMORE CLASS OFFICERS

Chairman of Chairmen, Sharon Silver
Advisor, Mr. Jacobsen

Being new in the school this year, the Sophomore Class has been more or less following the activities instead of leading them. Although the Sophomore Class has had to start from the bottom, their hard-working committees are raising them to the top.

They have put on several P.-T. A. dances and have held money-raising projects for their class. They are looking forward with much anticipation to the time when they will be seniors.

BANKING

Library

The library, being one of our most important rooms, has undergone a great change during the past year. Not only has it been completely remodeled, but it has welcomed several new magazines and books to its shelves.

Students having experience working in the Franklin library are automatically qualified to join the library club. This year they put on an apple sale the proceeds from which were donated to the Seattle Public Library for a new world globe. The officers, pictured at the top of the page, are Jan Condon, Vice President; Sheila Wilkinson, President and Janice DelDuca, Secretary-Treasurer.

Debate

To be on the debate team, a student must have a 2.7 grade point average. The class works in all kinds of forensic activities such as oratory, impromptu and extemporaneous speeches. The students on debate have attended tournaments and forensic contests. Standing are Drayton, Lowe, Miss Flagler, Mr. Black, Steffan, Rohlfs. Seated are Kashiwagi, Morriston, Holmberg, Moore, Whittlesey, Pick, Schumacher.

HELPING MAC

Have you had Biology 1 & 2? If so, you may be qualified to become a laboratory assistant to one of our fine Biology teachers (if you can get their personal permission). If you're lucky enough to pass the rigid standards, some of your duties might be helping in dissection of a frog or worm. Or maybe you'll get to help in preparing laboratory tests. Among some of the other duties of a "lab-assistant" are helping in demonstrations and giving lectures. You would have to know the inner-sanctum (lab. stockroom) and where and what all the laboratory equipment is.

All in all the fine job of lab-assistants has been deeply appreciated by our Biology teachers and their many hard-working hours spent in the Biology class will surely be a boon to their future careers.

FALL SEMESTER

First row: Karen Peterson, Julie Jack, Sandy Bliler, Sally Sundstrom, Gail Scudder.
Second row: Jeannette Colagrossi, Linda Justice, Judy Asp, Betty Dahl, Barbara Gervais, Diane Greco, Sally Neupert.
Third row: Garry Nakayama, Sam Eskenazi, Bill Hirota, Don Gunnette, Steve Schlesinger.

Tolo Weekly is published 22 times during the school year for the students of Franklin . . . by the students of Franklin. Each year some 120 Juniors enroll in the journalism classes; of this number, about one-third continue on through News II and eventually participate in full-time staff work.

While Tolo Weekly is not an activity in the strict interpretation of the extra-curricular program, activity is essential to the production of a real school newspaper.

Staff members, editorial and business, are obligated to assume the responsibility of mirroring Life at Franklin. They must attempt to honestly reflect the light and the serious. They must recognize the role of the newspaper in the community. While devoting time and space to entertaining, they must focus attention upon academic accomplishment, meritorious service by groups and individuals, and praiseworthy achievement by faculty members and departments. They are obligated to further the administrative policies of the school. Through the cooperation of the student body, faculty, administration, and community . . . Tolo Weekly aims to Truly Represent Franklin High School.

This year's president of Lettermen's Club is Colin Miller. Along with the other officers he has led the club in helping the school.

An important job of these boys has been to assist in all the fire drills. They supported the basketball season by sponsoring a successful pep assembly. This spring, they put on a big dance, the profits of which went toward the Jerry Lorentson Foundation. Jerry is a Queen Anne boy who has been paralyzed since his injury in the football jamboree. A foundation has been started in his honor to help all such injured players.

The officers feel this has been a very successful year.

QM

Quaker Maids contributed to school spirit by selling pompons for all football games.

SENIOR

School events in which the Senior Choir performed were the Christmas Program, the Rededication, the Spring Concert, and Commencement. The choir also sang in the All-City Choir Festivals, and at the Olympic Hotel for the Urban League.

Front row, left to right: Cahill, Evans, Townsend, Hansen, Gibbs, Jack, Butz, Kennedy.

Second row: Link, Johnson, VanCleave, Powers, Young, Shields, Kolstad, Rider.

Third row: Woodcock, Salud.

CHOIR

This fine group, under the able leadership of Mr. Emanuel Weisman, present during the year, two concerts.

A Christmas concert presented during the fall was highlighted by the Orchestra's fine adaptation of the classic "Messiah."

The second concert came in the spring. This year's program included the music of "My Fair Lady," an event which we're all sure will maintain the high and proud standing of our school's orchestra.

Second row: Korsberg, Mathews, Massena, D. Gibbons, Haddix Vanvick, Donehue, Norris, Mayer, Alexander, Lebus, McDowell, Rhodes, Salud, Coleman, Peterson.

Third Row: Williams, Schaeffer, Wiener, Loe, Woodcock, Dean, Arnold, Kondo, Gatterman, Koidahl, Rothwell, P. Gibbens, Young, D. Freeman, Shields, Long, Schdening.

The Franklin Quakerettes added much color to the half-time activities during the football season. The members, starting from the left, front to back are: 1st row: Stenman, Livingston, Garrett, Ishida; 2nd row: Nobuyama, Creighton, Pogue, Slaughter, Fernandez; 3rd row: Matsumoto, Harding, Bjork, Hall; 4th row: Duncan, Mayeda, Hymas, Langseth, Gutierrez; 5th row: Chinn, Harding, Haas, Mendoza; 6th row: Perry, Wright, Bartley, Marrah, Raines; 7th row: Go, Ackerman, Stahl, Guise; 8th row: Courtade, Davidson, Mayhall, Flint; 9th row: Hoshide, Hall, Rice, Courage; 10th row: Perry, Telgenhoff, Kehr, Olander, Slaughter; 11th row: Smedbron, Allen, Carlson, Huffman; 12th row: Waters, Kimura, Nakamura, Anderson.

It seems that the new uniforms have not only improved the looks of our band, but have given them the confidence to play better than they have in previous years.

This year they played at the football jamboree, all football, basketball games, and pep assemblies. They also made a grand appearance at the Puyallup Fair, Santa Claus parade, school dedication, Sharples visitation, music festival, spring concert, music assembly and at graduation.

With this record, it is evident they have added greatly to the reputation of Franklin during this past year.

GIRLS' CHOIR

The Girls' Choir performed at the Christmas concert, the Girls' Club installation and the spring concert. The members are: Adams, Bitler, Bicknell, Bragg, Ceccoy, Cackran, Cole, Courtade, Day, Duckworth, Taylor, Fellows, Furuta, Hepworth, Hollinger, Jack, Kipling, Kiyonaga, Lee, Massenna, Moore, Oldham, Overval, Pence, C. Perry, T. Perry, Phelps, Philpott, Shumacker, Snipes, Softle, K. Steele, L. Steele, Teig, Tyack, Urlevich, Vertz, Wandell, Watkins, C. Weber, K. Weber.

THESPIANS

Thespians is a dramatic art club. Throughout the year they have produced one-act plays, planned theater parties, sponsored the Cleveland assembly and sold refreshments during the school plays. Front row: Finlayson, Peterson, vice-pres.; Messmer, treas.; Miss Wills, advisor; Holmgren, sec.; Robbins, chrm. of chrmn.; Cohen. Row 2: Lutz, Stusser, Hurley, Tooley, Southey, pres.; Powell, Lindsay, Teig, Oquist. Row 3: Skrbek, Cox, McCarty, Hersner, Hall, Waters, Goff, Offer. Row 4: Bjork, Sorenson, Mandeville, Creevey, Malstrom, Williams, Christophersen, Snow. Row 5: Dows, Haverfield, MacKean, Mercil.

SPORTS

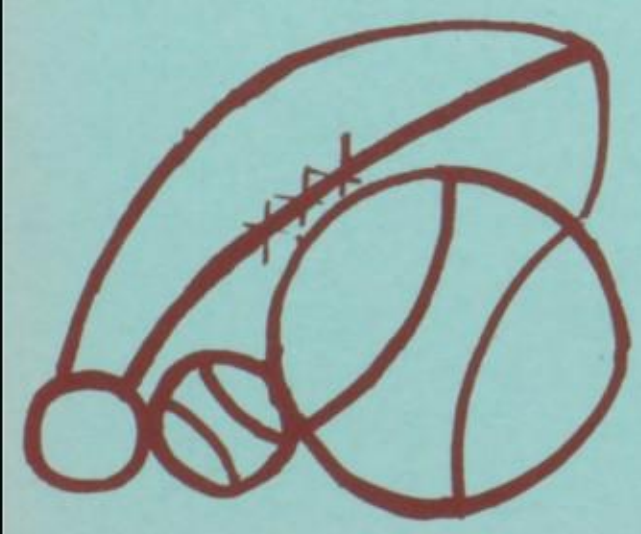
FSU SPOF



There is much more to mastering a sport than the average fan sees. Months of constant preparation are put in by each player and all the coaches before the actual event takes place. Mastering of the fundamentals requires months of exercise and practice before the first opponent is met.

Then comes the real test; their first game. This doesn't mean that preparation is now done. Every afternoon and often on Saturdays practice continues. Practice isn't the only thing that makes the athlete, for determination and a willingness to learn are important factors. Also inspiration and ability to work with the rest of the team are qualities of a true Franklin athlete.

50 YEARS OF PUBLICATION

Ye Olde
Franklin High School

opened September 4, 1906
at Washington and Main between 18th and 19th Avenues

In the attic of this building Tolo was born in September 1909

The first editor was
Charles J. Foster

MEANING OF TOLO

"According to Edward Harpers Thomas' Chinook: A History and Dictionary of the Northwest Coast Trade Jargon the word tolo is a verb of Kalapuya origin and means

'to earn, to gain, to win, prevail, control, convince, overcome, subdue, subject, defeat, triumph, manage, succeed'

Examples: Kunsih dolla nika tolo spose nika mamook? How many dollars will I earn if I work? Wawa pe tolo, to persuade. Nika tolo yaka: I prevailed over him, I beat him, won over him."

Tolo, as a dance to which the girl invites the boy, originated at the University of Washington in 1916 and has come to be used all over the country. It started as a Leap Year Dance, given by Tolo, the U. of W.'s predecessor of Mortar Board. A grad of the U. during the 20's recalls Tolo House where Honors and Activities girls lived.

On Monday, November 30, this year's Tolo Annual Staff and their advisor, Jess Hurley, entertained former teachers and people associated with Tolo; representatives and advisors of the staffs of Ballard Shingle, Cleveland Aquila, Ingraham Glacier, Lincoln Totem, Queen Anne Grizzly, Roosevelt Strenuous Life, Sealth Cache, Shoreline Tide, and West Seattle Kimtah; and our present faculty. Honored guests were Mr. Charles J. Foster, first editor, and his wife; Samuel E. Fleming, first vice-principal of Franklin and retired superintendent of Seattle Schools; Mrs. Maud Ralston, long-time owner of Ralston Studio; Mrs. Ann Stone, present owner of Ralston Studio; Miss Helen Olson, Director of Language Arts; Messrs. George Farmer and Walter Campbell, Principal and Vice-Principal of Queen Anne; Miss Areta Hurley, Vice-President of Associated Students of the University of Washington; Mr. Carl Wells of Metropolitan Press; Mr. Chester Gibbon, alumnus and Feature Editor of Seattle Times; and former teachers: Mr. Grant A. Laizure, Mr. Ralph Knapp, Mrs. Sarah E. Siegel, Mrs. Hazel MacDonald McCaskill, Mrs. William Evenson, Mrs. Mildred Brewer, Mrs. Sarah Grove, Mrs. Gertrude Staeger, Miss Rose Glass, Miss Anna Belle Shaw.

The following mothers of P-TA assisted as hostesses: Mrs. Cramer, Mrs. Finlayson, Mrs. Edwards, Mrs. Carbon, Mrs. Schlesinger, Mrs. Dahl, Mrs. Lysons, Mrs. Jordan.

Mrs. Ralston and Mrs. McCaskill look back through the years

The Ralston Studio began taking pictures for Tolo Annual in 1927-28. Mrs. Ralston and her husband did the work through 1946. Since then Mrs. Stone, present owner of the studio, has been our official photographer (1947-60).

Publishers of Tolo:

Frank McCaffrey (Acme Press)—1932-1953
Deers Press—1954-1958
Metropolitan Press—1958-1960

After fifty years! Never did it occur to me at the old Franklin High School—18th Avenue and Main Street—in 1909, the first year of Tolo, that I would be writing another editorial for that publication—fifty years later—in 1959. But because life has been kind to me, here is this other message.

What education is of the most worth? This is an old, old topic. We had the question more than 200 years ago. We had the question 100 years ago. We had it with us fifty years ago. Today—1959—we are still debating this same old subject—what education is of the most worth?

We are told that greater emphasis should be placed on the correct use of the English language—our mother tongue. Practice makes perfect. We should not be relegated to second place in science and its many ramifications. We should know American history and what America stands for. We cannot consider our education well rounded until and unless we can read, write and speak at least one foreign language. Mathematics is the foundation upon which all our material and technical progress is based. With more leisure time upon our hands—made possible by our mechanical slaves—training should be taken in fine arts—industrial arts—hand crafts—dramatics and public speaking. We can never be too well educated, for education is a life-long process for everyone. Education is the key to a successful life and likewise is our first and last line of defense—individually and collectively. It is our closest friend in peace and our strongest ally in war.

And of what value are all these accomplishments and skills if we do not have health? We need sturdy bodies for the life ahead. Our bodies must not be weakened by taking into them anything that does not produce health.

The happy person is the person who always has something constructive to do throughout life's span.

Success does not mean the same thing to all people. We are all different individuals, but we should be able to agree that—be it ever so humble—each of us, to some degree, should make our community a little better because we have lived in it. Tomorrow should be better than today. In doing something for someone else we are really doing something better for ourselves.

"Let our schools teach the nobility of labor and the beauty of human service, but the superstitions of ages past—never" (Peter Cooper). Thus endeth the lesson.

CHARLES J. FOSTER,
First Editor Tolo, 1909-1910

New Franklin Opened September 1912—Architect's Sketch
Published in Potlatch Issue of Tolo, May 1912

Our school colors, green and black, were adopted at old Franklin and the magazine Tolo was published eight times a year from 1909-1912. When Tolo moved to the new building, the last issue in May 1913, consisting of 48 pages, featured 28 individual pictures of the first four-year graduating class. The magazine editions of Tolo continued through May 1919, but starting in 1914 an annual as well was published. This year's annual is the 47th yearbook produced at Franklin.

In September 1919 the old monthly literary magazine was superseded by Tolo Weekly. This year the weekly has completed its 41st consecutive year of publication. The two Tolos have run concurrently since 1919.

Space does not permit inclusion of all the student editors of the monthly, the annual, and the weekly. However, faculty advisors through the years include the following:

EDGAR BLAIR

Born Des Moines, Iowa, January 15, 1871
Died Seattle, Washington, November 9, 1924

Education, Des Moines College, Iowa State University, Columbia University.

Came to Seattle in 1906 after practicing architecture in Baltimore, New York and Washington, D. C.

Main interest was in public buildings and schools, rather than in residential building. Was Seattle school architect from 1909 until 1918. Private architectural work until his death.

Designed 32 grade schools and five high schools while school architect.

Came to the West Coast originally after working in the East because he felt a new school of architecture would develop here with the opening of new areas and the growth of new ideas.

Edgar Blair (1923), architect who designed original unit of this building. The East Wing, opened in Sept. 1925, was designed by Floyd A. Naramore, then school architect. Recent additions and changes have been by John Maloney, represented by Warren R. Pugh.

Franklin's first track coach was named Mr. Runner.

For several years the most popular club was the Peripatetics. They sponsored hikes to Mt. Rainier and other points of interest in the Northwest.

Participation cards used to be bought by a stamp plan. You bought a 10c stamp each week and pasted it on your card. If you didn't have enough stamps you couldn't go to games or other events.

School colors were originally orange and black. We asserted our independence from Broadway by changing the orange to green. When did the terms Quaker and Green Wave originate?

We have had slogans but never any permanent symbol or mascot. Maybe, commemorating our namesake, our symbol should be a kite, or is that too anachronistic?

Ashes to ashes,
Dust to dust;
If Latin don't kill us
Geometry must.

Johnny snickered when teacher read the story of the Roman who swam across the Tiber River three times before breakfast.

'Johnny, don't you think a good swimmer could do it?"

"Sure, ma'am, but why didn't he make it four and get to the side his clothes were on?"

So, bartender, add a straw.

She: But remember: "In Union there is strength!"
Result—Annexation.

Johnny: I'm stuck on this problem.
Teacher: I'm glad you like it.

He: Would you accept a pet monkey?
She: Oh, I would have to ask father. This is so sudden!

Mistress: I saw the milkman kiss you this morning. I'll bring the milk in myself after this.
Maid: It won't do no good, ma'am. He promised to kiss nobody but me.

The five brightest sayings of Sophomores this week:

2.
3.
4.
5.

First: This dining room table goes back to Louis the Fourteenth.
Second: That's nothing. This whole living room goes back to Sears, Roebuck the fifteenth.

1959

Dinner guest: Will you pass the nuts, professor?
Professor (absent-mindedly): Yes, I suppose so, but I really should flunk them.

He: Since I met you, I can't eat, sleep, or drink.
She: Why?
He: Broke!

Yet all experience is an arch where-thro'
Gleams that untraveled world, whose margin fades
Forever and forever when I move.
